

Two entrepreneurs have decided to throw a block party. They have been working beside each other for a while. In the inverted roadcross of Salmou and 3is Septemvriou. It's located on the fourth floor on Solomou 64. They have decided to throw a block party to drive up the prices in the area so the junkies leave them alone so they can continue to extract all the wealth from the pockets of the Athenians. Mr: Cat who is the owner of "Mr: Cats bar", a greek patriot! And "Gregori Göken" A misplaced Chilean, saying he comes from another time, he was sent to europe to avenge his forefathers. But got stuck in the deathgrip of the Swedish welfare state! He's on his way home to Peumo, Chile, but ran out of money in Greece! G.Göken runs a Kalamaki place called "Malaka Kalamaki Souvlaki" or MKS. Sounds worse than KFC, but who cares. They are both stupidly greedy and try to steal each other's customers all the time! Mr:Cat once appeared in the local evening news accusing G.Göken for stealing the street cats and putting them in the Kalamakis. "Can you see any street cats around here? There are millions in Athens, but not here!"

Lately the city has pushed down the drug dealers and junkies to their roadcross, it's bad for their business! And for once they have decided to collaborate instead! After lots of arguing they decide to let a guy called Victor make some decoration and wall art! The walls are covered with beautiful paintings. The garage door is painted with a colorful painting with a hidden message of five letters. A mural is made as an image of daily life on the street. Mr: Cat did protest at first! "Do you think I want to see this sad, depressive shit for the rest of my life? But Victor told him something like "Dude, when the junkies are gone, and everything is so expensive that no ones going to go to your bar, that's when you can look at the painting and remember how it used to be!

Mr: Cat is so happy, he decides that the drinks will be free all night. It's on me, It's on the house! But, G.Göken has an evil plan! He will only serve very salty snacks and candy, so people become very thirsty! And run Mr: Cat into bankruptcy! He knows the people will come back to him with the drinks, because Mr: Cats ac don't work, it's fake!!

To the local newspaper he says, "bring all your friends! Who knows, maybe it's the last day to get drunk, maybe the world goes under tomorrow!

My apartment
Solomou 64
Athens